Description Script foreman-installer fails when launched on CentOS 8 Stream. Error is: ERROR] [configure] Evaluation Error: Error while evaluating a Function Call, No preferred version defined or automatically detected. (file: /usr/share/foreman-installer/modules/postgresql/manifests/globals.pp, line: 231, column: 5) on node XXXX A look at the script help find the problem: the script can't determine the kind of Linux used and therefore can't set an appropriate postgresql version to install. Workaround: temporarily replacing the following files with CentOS 8 versions allows successful installation. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• system-release• redhat-release• os-release It leaves hope for a not too painful adaptation to CentOS 8 Stream.
