Description

Cloned from https://bugzilla.redhat.com/show_bug.cgi?id=2028446

Description of problem:

[RFE] Add options to change the import and export path in /etc/pulp/settings.py

Version-Release number of selected component (if applicable):
satellite-6.10

How reproducible:
New installation

Actual results:

There is no option available through custom-hiera.yaml or satellite-installer to change the below directories to custom path

    1. cat /etc/pulp/settings.py

ALLOWED_IMPORT_PATHS = ["/var/lib/pulp/sync_imports", "/var/lib/pulp/imports"]
ALLOWED_EXPORT_PATHS = ["/var/lib/pulp/exports"]

It seems to be a hard-coded in the configuration :

    1. cat /usr/share/foreman-installer/modules/foreman_proxy_content/manifests/init.pp |grep -iE "sync_imports|imports"
       $pulpcore_allowed_import_path   = ['/var/lib/pulp/sync_imports']
       $pulpcore_allowed_import_path   = ['/var/lib/pulp/sync_imports', '/var/lib/pulp/imports']

    1. cat /usr/share/foreman-installer/modules/pulpcore/templates/settings.py.erb

ALLOWED_IMPORT_PATHS = <%= scope['pulpcore::allowed_import_path'] >
ALLOWED_EXPORT_PATHS = <= scope['pulpcore::allowed_export_path'] %>

Expected results:

If changing the import and export path is allowed, then we will need a module for custom-hiera.yaml and satellite-installer parameter

Additional info:

Tried the below parameters in hiera but not work after running the installer.

    1. cat /etc/foreman-installer/custom-hiera.yaml

pulpcore::allowed_import_path: ['/mnt/test5', '/mnt/test6'] pulpcore::allowed_export_path: ['/mnt/test7']
